

Damian Goldvarg, MCC, PhD, is a Master Certified Coach with a Ph.D. in Organizational Psychology from Alliant University in California. He is a member of the American Psychological Association, the Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology and the International Coach Federation (ICF) and was the 2013-2014 ICF Global President.

Damian has twenty years of experience in executive assessment and coaching, leadership development, talent management, facilitation, strategic planning, and team building services. Originally from Argentina, he has extensive experience working with people from different cultures and social backgrounds. He has worked with individuals and organizations in over forty countries, including the Americas, Europe, Africa and Asia, offering services in English, Spanish, and Portuguese. Through his work with multinational Fortune 100 companies, governments and community based organizations, Damian's coaching and consulting services have realized extraordinary results for his clients. These results enhance productivity and communication, impact the quality of leadership present within these organizations and improve the quality of the work and personal lives of those individuals he coaches and consults.

Damian has a background in business and mental health with areas of expertise in emotional intelligence, communication, delegation, conflict resolution, behavioral interviewing, 360 feedback, and time management. He participates actively in various community boards and he was recognized in 1997 with the Daniel Lara Award for Community Involvement. He has presented his work at national and international conferences.

Damian also earned his MS degree in Counseling from California State University, Northridge and received his BA in Clinical Psychology from the University of Buenos Aires, Argentina. He is also a Certified Coach Supervisor by Coaching Supervisory Academy.
