

Laura Geissler

LifeBridge Health Human Resources
Director, Learning and Organizational Development

Laura has been with the LifeBridge Health System for 11 years. She and her team plan, coordinate, and implement training programs and custom interventions to meet the learning and development needs of the organization. She consults with executives, managers, physicians and employees on a variety of training, leadership, change initiatives, and development needs. She is also an executive coach, and in 2013 helped LifeBridge Health create and launch their new Core Purpose and Values.

Laura brings a wealth of knowledge with over 26 years of business and training, leadership and organizational development experience in the financial services and healthcare industries. Prior to joining LifeBridge, Laura was a Vice President at Allfirst and M&T Banks, responsible for a variety of business lines and training areas.

She holds certifications to facilitate training in leadership, team building, customer service, sales and is certified in several instruments designed to evaluate and coach leaders and employees. Laura received her undergraduate degree in Business Management from Towson University and holds a Senior Human Resources Professional Designation from the Society of Human Resources Management.
